1 Introduction

Write around four paragraphs establishing the context and motivating your project.

1.1 Related work

Discuss related work.

1.2 Objectives

One sentence summary of your project. Followed by a short list of concrete objectives:

- Objective 1

- Objective 2

- Objective 3

2 Background

Your literature review goes here. ? discusses the advantages of functional programming by exploring e.g. lists, trees, and noughts and crosses in a functional programming language.

3 Progress

Summarise the progress you have made so far. You can cross-reference other sections (Section 2).

4 Project management

Include a timetable (in 2 week chunks) for the remainder of the academic year, up until the submission deadline.
